Start Here: Easy Halloween Games for Kids

Made for grown-ups in charge

Every game here is friendly, not scary, and needs nothing but printouts and pens or crayons. Perfect for a class party, a birthday, or a rainy afternoon when the sugar has already kicked in.

How to run it

Print one sheet per child for the solo games and one per small group for the team games. Read the rules out loud, keep prizes tiny, and let every kid win at least one round if you can swing it.

Prizes that work

Stickers, pencils, a single wrapped candy, or the honor of leading the next game. Kids will play for a plastic spider ring like it is a gold medal.

BINGO
